UNCLES AND AUNTS HAD WAR DANCE ON THE MIDWAY.

Redskins Conducted Lively Ceremonies to Drive Away the Possible "Hoodoo" Attending His Peculiar Birth.

In the waning, wan October,
On the Illinoisan prairie,
On the train, the Rapid Rusher,
Scooting o'er the paleface country,
Came the bird, the mighty Storka,
To the shy Cheyenne, the daughter
Of the feathered brave, Whoop-La-La,
In the land of happy hunting.
To the shy Cheyenne said Storka,
Bird of babyland and bawling;
"Take this wee pappoose, this youngun,
Name it Forty-Mile-an-Hour;
'Tis the fastest kidlet ever;
Born aboard the white man's wagon,
Rapid Rusher, may the infant
Be a swift one in the battle,
Be as rapid with the Gatling
And the barker, Six-the-Shooter,
As the Rapid Rusher's rapid."

Had the great Geronimo himself conducted the ceremonies he could not have inspired more intense terror than the 30 copper-colored subjects of Uncle Sam, who assembled at Union Station Sunday night to celebrate the birth of a full-blooded pappoose, born but a few hours before on a Vandalia train en route to St. Louis.

The Indians belong to the Cherokee and Cheyenne tribes. Their tiny increase of population is the daughter of Milton and Minnie Strong, who belong to the Indian aristocracy of the territory, having received their education at the Haskell Institute, L rence, Kan.

BOY" FOUND IN BASKET

"BABY BOY" THE NEWEST FOUNDLING AT BETHESDA HOME.

"Baby Boy," a week old waif, has gone to the Bethesda Foundling's home in spite of a mother's pathetic effort to save the little one, that she could not own, from charity.

Nameless but not homeless "Baby Boy" was given a warm bath and a cot in a sunny corner of Bethesda home Saturday.

He was sent there in spite of a friendless mother's attempt to save her nameless little one.

W. E. Conley of 24 South Seventeenth street discovered "Baby Boy" on his doorstep Friday night. Mr. Conley was hurrying in his home when he found a chip basket and a wee bundle of humanity.

When he leaned over the basket to discover its secret a plaintive cry told the story.

The chip basket sheltered "Baby Boy," the blankets around him proved that he had loving care before he was deposited in the doorway.

Lusty cries told that "Baby Boy" was much alive.

His eyes told he was lately from heaven, for their color had been caught from the passage through the blue skies.

"Baby Boy" cooed and waved ih shands. A waif of the world, he was satisfied. Any berth seemed better than a chip basket and a doorstep. Conley told the police of his find and Saturday morning they came for "Baby Boy." He was carried, in the same chip basket, both house and cradle for "Baby Boy," to the Bethesda Maternity Home, 1210 Grattan street, and afterward sent to the main home on Vista avenue. He is a strong infant. He has not been named.

Edw midt, Staunton back, the Victim.

OPPOSED ST. LOUIS TEAM

PLAYERS BURNED THEIR SUITS AND THE GOAL POSTS.

Declared They Would Never Play the Game Again—Coroner's Jury Declares Death Was Due to Rupture of Blood Vessel.

A game of football at Staunton, Ill., a coal mining town in Macoupin County, was terminated Sunday afternoon by a fatality in which the victim was Edward Schmidt, fullback of the Staunton team and one of the most popular young men in the town, which has 4500 inhabitants.

Schmidt was in the game against the protests of his mother. He had played in two games earlier in the season and had been requested by his family to quit.

"This will be my last game, mother," he said Sunday as he prepared to go to the ball field.

It was his last in a way not intended in his remark. Less than an hour later he was lying cold on the operating table at the office of Dr. Bay, a Staunton physician.

Death Due to Bursted Blood Vessel.

This morning a coroner's jury handed down a verdict of "death due to accident, caused by the rupture of a blood vessel of the brain."

The game in which the unfortunate incident occurred was between the Staunton team and the Coffeys, a St. Louis eleven, patronized by Father Coffey, from whom its name is derived. The accident occurred at the latter end of the first half, with the score 0—0 and the ball in possession of the Staunton team on their own 40-yard line.

Schmidt had been playing star ball for the home aggregation. He had just made a 20-yard gain between the Coffey's left guard and tackle, and on rising had told the quarterback he thought he could repeat on the other side of the Coffey's line.

The signal was accordingly given for a straight buck on the Coffey's line between right guard and tackle. McGrail, who distinguished himself as a member of the C. B. C. team two years ago, was playing right tackle for the St. Louis team, Boghart right guard.

When the signal was given, Schmidt bucked down the line looking for the hole. McGrail and Boghart held, however Schmidt stopped short and the pla up on top of him. Perhaps half men were on top, several bein team.

Klebba, who is 62 years old, and his wife, who is less than half his age, were married at Hillsboro, Ill., in September, 190 The marriage was kept secret, and shortly afterward, when it became known, another ceremony was performed in St. Louis.

It was less than a year afterward that Klebba and his wife went to the Knights Templar conclave at Louisville, Ky.

Mrs. Remme, a witness in the case, testified Monday that she was on the train with the Klebbas, and that Klebba told her he had become tired of his wife.

"He told me," the woman said, "that he wanted to get a divorce, and that if I would also get a divorce he would marry me."

Other incidents of the Louisville trip and of the subsequent married life of the couple were brought out by the witnesses in support of the wife's assertion that her husband had been cruel and had failed to provide properly for her.

When he had granted the divorce, Judge Fisher added: "The alimony will be $25 a month."

"She has made no application for alimony, your honor," said Klebba's attorney, who had let the suit go by default.

"Well," said the court, "she is entitled to it, as this testimony plainly shows. On further consideration, I will fix the alimony at $30 a month."

Klebba has a family by a former wife.

MURDER FRED LARIMORE

F. Lester, Wealthy Farmer, Under Arrest.

EVIDENCE IS CIRCUMSTANTIAL

LETTER IN DEAD MAN'S POCKET GAVE A CLEW.

Bloodhounds on Murderer's Trail Led to a Hitching Post Where Lester Had Tied His Team the Night of the Crime.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

QUINCY, Ill., Oct. 27.—Millard Fillmore Lester, who has been under surveillance, suspected of possessing knowledge of the murder of Frederick Larimore, who was found dead near his home near Plainville, was arrested last night by Detectives Koch and Bumster, and this morning brought to Quincy and placed in jail. The evidence against him is wholly circumstantial. Bloodhounds on three trails left the orchard from whence the fatal shot was supposed to have been fired and brought up at a hitching post in the village where Lester had his horse tied that night. Lester had come to town that night with two other neighbors and their vehicles. They expected to go home together, but Lester did not appear and they saw him no more that night.

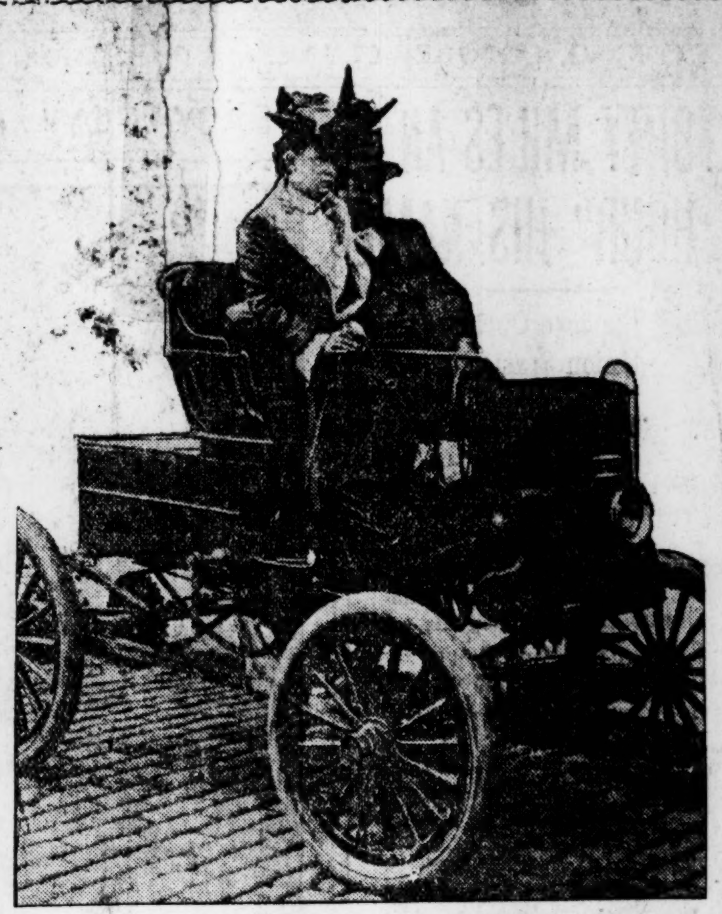
Lester is a wealthy man of 42 years and owns a farm of 260 acres near Plainville. He has a daughter aged 19, who is married to Alvin McKee, a well-to-do young farmer also living only two miles from the village.

Letters found among Larimore's effects after the shooting first directed suspicion toward the Lester-McKee families. It is also stated that a week ago Lester and Larimore had some words concerning Mrs. McKee, and threats were made. Mrs. McKee, who was away, was to come home on Friday and the shooting of Larimore occurred Thursday night.

Mrs. McKee and her husband reached Quincy Saturday and there for the first time learned of the shooting.

The funeral of Larimore was held in the Methodist Church at Plainville yesterday afternoon and was the largest ever seen in the village. Lester and his daughter and her husband were present, and so also was Rosa Flick, the girl to whom the dead man was soon to have been married. Lester declared to the father of Larimore that he was unjustly suspected and could prove that he was in bed at 9 o'clock on Thursday night. The shooting occurred at about 8:45 that night.

MRS. HAFELI DRIVES AUTOMOBILE THAT HER HUSBAND CONSTRUCTED



Photographed by the Post-Dispatch.

Mrs. F. Hafeli of Centralia, Ill., drove the automobile that her husband built from Centralia to St. Louis Sunday in nine hours. The distance is 90 miles. When the condition of the roads is taken in consideration the speed is accounted fast.

Mr. Hafeli, who accompanied his wife on the trip, is an engineer on the Illinois Central Railroad.

Returning the couple left St. Louis Monday at 10 o'clock and expect to reach their home by sundown.

Mr. Hafeli built the machine three years ago, using the time when he was "off duty" to accomplish the task. An automobile company of St. Louis supplied the gasoline engine and the fittings and Mr. Hafeli built the body of the vehicle in his back-yard shop. Mrs. Hafeli learned to handle the auto, and when her husband proposed Sunday to make a pleasure trip to the World's Fair town she was competent to guide the machine.

The route was through Carlyle, Trenton, Lebanon, O'Fallon and East St. Louis, along the State road. The worst road encountered was the Rock road leading into East St. Louis.

ET-AWAY WEEK AT FAIR GROUNDS

al Racing Season [illegible] 1902 Comes to an E[illegible] Next Friday.

BY R. D. WALSH.

is getaway week at the Fair ds. The local racing season of 1902 ome to a close Friday next, and ers generally will have to go into uous desuetude" for the next six months. Their favorite sport will die of time limitation.

During the present week form will count for very little in the various racing contests. The "good things" that have been bottled up for months past specially for this week will be sprung on an unsuspecting public. Winter oats must be made somehow for the bangtails and getaway money must be secured.

There is no special feature to the racing program for this afternoon, but the fourth event seems to be the most important. This is a purse race at six furlongs for 2-year-olds and upwards and has a high-class field of eleven thoroughbreds entered in it.

Among the entries in this race is the great Schwalbe, and although the distance is a little too short for her to do her best, I believe she will be able to capture the event. Her last race—a mile in 1:40½—suggests that she is now at her best, and she can probably cover the distance of today's race in 1:13½.

There is no horse in the race that can equal this time, with the possible exception of Elastic, and his limit seems to be 1:14. Elastic, however, is no mean competitor even for Schwalbe, and she will have to hustle pretty lively to beat him. The Lemp horse is now in perfect condition and is one of the best sprinters at the local tracks.

JORDON.

Jordan—Hayes' good 3-year-old—is not at his best over a fast course. He prefers a muddy track and also a longer route. Bas d'Or and Happy Chappy belong to the juvenile element, and at this distance and against such company have no possible chance of winning. They are simply outclassed.

Virgie d'Or won a good race at a mile a few days ago at odds of 100 to 1, but such surprises are seldom repeated by the same horse, so that no danger need be apprehended from that quarter. The same argument applies to Fitzkanet as to Jordan and If You Dare's last would indicate that he has gone back a little.

Echo Dale and Jack de Mund are also mud horses, but the latter is also good over a fast track, as his race aginst Lady Strathmore last week proved. Among such good sprinters it is difficult to pick a slow horse, but on form Jack de Mund has the call. In his last race he led for six furlongs and should be prominent at that distance today.

FIRST RACE.

The opening race will be a purse for 2-year-olds at five and a half furlongs. There is very little class to this race, and in all probability a sleeper will be found here who will win at a long price. Fair Lass will make her local debut in this race and she has a fair record on the eastern tracks. On form, however, Light Opera seems best here, and she should be followed home closely by Fair Lass and Dr. Holscher.

Lady Idris has not yet shown her real form in St. Louis, and her opportunity may have arrived today. I know that she can do much better than she has done here, and she has not very many formidable antagonists today.

The best of those opposed to her seem to be Fickle Saint and Lena A., and I think she can outspeed these at this distance.

THIRD RACE.

Buccleuth is decidedly the class of the third race, and he should have little trouble in winning against this field. He can go the route and has the necessary speed. Sambo and Barklyite seem to be the best of the others, although if Antolee ran to her best form she would at least finish in the money. The others are of little account.

I see no good reason why Kisme should not repeat her victory of Saturday. She has about the same field to beat today and the additional two pounds should not stop her.

Charles D. looks to be the contender again and should finsh second. A careful watch had better be kept on Zonne in this race. This fellow is liable to wake up this week and disarrange some hopeful plans. When he is good and "meant" he can reel off a mile in about 1:40.

Jake Weber's last race was good enough to make him win here today. On that occasion he had a fighting finish with Bengal and carried 112 pounds. He is in today at the same distance and against practically the same company, and looks like a winner. He can earn his winter oats if he will only try.

The track will be good and fast today, and fast time should be made, especially in the fourth and sixth races.

On the whole the card is a good one, but there are opportunities for "sleepers," and as it is the closing week of the season they are very liable to wake up with startling and painful suddenness.

KILLED BY FALL FROM MOTOR-CYCLE

Frank E. Elwell Met Death While Participating in a Club Run.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Frank E. Elwell of Brooklyn, an international authority on motor cycling, and a frequent contributor to the magazines devoted to this sport, has been killed near Hicksville, L. I., while participating in a club run.

The head stem of his machine broke as he was speeding along at a fast clip, and he was hurled to the ground with such force that his neck was broken.

Elwell had traveled through Europe, Asia and Northern Africa on the machine that caused his death. There were 72 cyclists in the party. Elwell was the last man in the string. As the party neared Hicksville he put on full power in order to catch up with the others, and while crossing the railroad tracks his machine suddenly fell apart. When a physician reached him he was dead.

HAVE AN HONEST ELECTION.

In answer to an inquiry from the Post-Dispatch the mayor, a majority of the Board of Police Commissioners, and a majority of the Board of Election Commissioners pledge themselves to use power and influence to prevent fraud and violence at the election day. These pledges, which are published in the Post-Dispatch, are clear and explicit. It remains now for citizens to see that the promises are faithfully fulfilled.

The sentiment for good government and civic improvement was never so much alive in St. Louis as it is today. But it is idle to hope for progress in that respect unless the fountain head, the ballot box is kept free from taint of fraud.

Citizens must co-operate in every precinct in the city to watch the polls on election day, keep an eye out for fraud, support the police by their presence in the discharge of duty and restrain them from partial or partisan acts, report cases of violence, bulldozing or fraudulent voting, and in all other respects show the evil minded that no trickery will be tolerated.

Once the bums are convinced that decent citizens are combined to procure the impartial enforcement of the law and the swift punishment of offenders they will be slow to interfere with the orderly course of the election.

Circuit Attorney Folk has promised to prosecute vigorously all violations of law. But he must depend upon the evidence of citizens interested in behalf of honest elections, if convictions are to be had.

Such citizens should take their station at the polling places in sufficient numbers to compel respect. They should act without reference to partisan feeling but solely in the interest of a free and honest election and a fair count.

Much depends upon popular action. We must have honest elections in St. Louis before we can hope to have substantial and permanent improvement in municipal government.

BUSINESS GROWING.

That industrial and commercial conditions needed only peace in the coal region to render them perfectly sound is seen in the reports of Dun and Bradstreet.

As pointed out, the best evidence of sound prosperity is the inadequacy of transportation facilities. The railroads have been spending vast sums of money in improved roadbeds, stronger bridges, more powerful locomotives and multiplied cars, but they are unable to keep pace with the enormous output demanding transportation.

Prosperity rests finally upon production. That this is greater than ever goes without saying, and that it will continue is plain from the activity in developing the resources of the country, which are practically endless.

Let friendly relations between capital and labor be maintained and we need no other guarantee of healthy growth.

BISCUITS OR BULLETS?

Twenty-four men have offered themselves at the altar of their country. They have signified their willingness to eat any and all kinds of food provided them at government expense, no questions asked, and to abide by the consequences.

They will be divided into two squads, and these squads will alternate between the ordinary table and the training table. They will be stuffed with all sorts of preservatives, aniline dyes and baking powders for two months, beginning Nov. 1, and from the results noted government chemists will endeavor to reduce the effects, deleterious or otherwise, of certain compounds on the human system.

Who shall say that these young men are not brave? Who shall say they are not patriotic? They offer their lives, if lives must be given up, in the interests of science, that the rest of us may be spared from a horrible fate. Furthermore, they take whatever comes, without question. The soldier takes his portion, but he knows in advance that his portion will be lead. He knows that he must face danger, perhaps destruction, but the man who volunteers to stand as a buffer between science and humanity exposes himself rashly to the onslaughts of the [illegible] the devilish doughnut and the machiavellian biscuit, [illegible] death-dealing drugs with which they [illegible] citizen—the volunteer soldier of th [illegible]

The rate over the entire United States is very low—3.5. At the other end of the scale is Saxony, where the rate is 31.1.

To assign a common cause in the midst of conditions so utterly dissimilar is not possible. We may say in general that the hurry, worry and flurry of modern life break men down and leave them exposed to the first suggestion of self-destruction that may come to them. But this leaves us little wiser than before.

Mental and bodily health is the best protective remedy. And the means to secure this lie in the exercise of ordinary prudence and common sense.

THE ST. LOUIS LOCAL ELECTIONS.

The sole issue in the St. Louis local elections is good government—the decision of the question whether the work of purifying the government of St. Louis, punishing the rascals who have plundered the people and improving the city shall continue or this work shall be checked and hampered.

St. Louis voters should not permit this issue to be obscured or their judgment as to candidates to be warped by partisan appeals and dust-throwing. In this crisis in the progress of St. Louis voters should keep in mind the welfare of the city, the building up of New St. Louis, and act upon their judgment regardless of mere partisan interests and purposes.

In determining for whom to vote citizens should take into consideration the character of the candidates, their records in office if they have held office, their associations and the influences which may control their official action. The forces behind the candidate as well as his own character and capacity should be taken into consideration.

These considerations are of special weight in determining the fitness of the candidates for the bench and for the offices concerned in the enforcement of the law. Three judges of the circuit bench, the judge of the Court of Criminal Correction and the prosecuting attorney and the assistant prosecuting attorney of the Court of Criminal Correction are to be elected. In view of the disclosures of corrupt conditions in St. Louis and of the attack being made in the courts upon the forces of corruption the question of the honesty, strength and freedom from unworthy influences of judges and law officers becomes paramount.

Concerning every candidate for the bench or for offices connected with law enforcement, voters should impartially and from the standpoint of independent citizenship, cherishing the public welfare and the city's progress determine in their own minds these questions:

Is he honest? Is he capable? Is he free from unworthy or corrupt associations and influences which would lead him to depart from the straight path of duty? Would his election better serve the public interest than that of any of his competitors?

Let it be kept in mind that the corrupt forces in St. Louis—the forces that strengthen Ziegenheinism, Butlerism or any other name under which corruption and abuse masquerade, are nonpartisan. They use the candidates or the party that best serves their corrupt purposes. They will concentrate upon the worst candidates of all parties.

If the best candidates are to be elected the reputable citizens of St. Louis must concentrate upon them.

The Post-Dispatch appeals to citizens to vote for the building up of New St. Louis upon these independent and patriotic lines. Between now and election day it will point out so far as possible the lines upon which good citizenship should fight the battle for good government.

IF I WERE KING.

If I were king, the whistling chump
Would soon be quartered up a stump.
Yes, I would keep him on the jump—
Of that ne'er fret.
T' escape me he would have to hump,
Ye well may bet.

If I were king, a matinee
Would be in order every day,
And I would linger on Broadway
And stand about
And watch the ladies bright and gay
Come filing out.

If I were king, the trolley cars
Would all have rubber tires. No jars
Would rack our nerves; there'd be no bars
To quiet rides.
Transfers we'd get to Venus, Mars
And th' moon, besides.

If I were king, I'd burn the books
And subsidize all first-class cooks,
And build in most delightful nooks
What most we need—
Hotels that might be short on looks,
But long on feed.

If I were king, I'd write a play
Without a scandal; do away
With boarding houses; fix the pay
Of all the workers
At ninety-seven bucks a day,
Including shirkers.

If I were king, there'd be no wait
For ladies who desired a mate;
No husband would roll homeward late,
With rum polluted,
And mortals of whatever state
Would all be suited.

Apologies Are Out of Date.

It used to be, even as recently as Washington Irving's time, that when a man wrote a book he apologized profusely to the public for making so bold as to present it for their consideration.

Instead of a preface, a "foreword," or an autobiography, the volume almost invariably led off with "The Author's Apology." In substance he would say:

"Gentle reader, this book of mine is rank. There is no doubt about it. I know I ought to be pinched for writing it, and the probabilities are that I will be. My only excuse for my present literary offense is that I was idle and feeling foolish. Of all the men who are writing for a living, I know that I am the worst. Some day some disgusted reader will put me out of business with a club, for keeps, and the public will be mighty glad of it, and with good reason. I know I am rank. Take my advice and don't read this book, or you will be sorry."

Nowadays it is different. It is the man who has not written a book who is expected to apologize. He must either write a book or give a satisfactory excuse for not doing so. It is like paying taxes or serving on a jury. You must either do it or show cause why you should not be compelled to do it. Every man in the world is expected to write a book, and there are only a few thousand of us left who have not come up to the mark.

The author of today handles books as a grocer handles hams or sacks of flour. He displays his name conspicuously and stamps all his goods "Made in St. Louis," or "Not Made by a Trust," and gets his product on the market at the earliest moment possible.

The modern writer has no time to make apologies. He is too busy making money.

CLEVER LITTLE STORIES.

A British soldier tells the following experience in the Transvaal: "One night I went to the door of our tent rather late and was at once attracted by an unusual object straight before me. I went up to it and found it to be the figure of a man turned upside down and apparently fixed so in an everlasting station. I turned the figure over and found it to be a friend of mine in the regiment endearingly known as the 'Dubs' (the Dublin fusiliers, that is). 'Why, what's wrong with you, Mike?' I asked. 'Ugh,' he replied, 'doctor, he sez "Ye're not looking yerself today, Mike"; so I sez, "Neither am Ifeeling it, docthor," sez I. "So, what is the matter wid ye, then?" sez he. "Ugh, sorr," sez I, "I thinks it's the monothony that's preying on me vitals." "Why," sez he, "go and shtand on yer head, man," sez he, "that's all you're needing." So I thried it, and I felt such an improvement in me gineral health that I'm just conthinuing the motion.'"

In making a tour of the Transvaal to acquaint himself with its people Lord Milner is following the example which Sir George Grey set in South Africa many years ago. It was a red-letter day in the history of a household on the veldt when Grey called and took coffee and spent half an hour in talk. The chair he sat on was sure to be preserved a[illegible] memento. But this regard for him had a[illegible] amusing contrast in an experience of his at a litle up-country hotel. When the bill was being paid one of Grey's companions drew attention to a rather excess[illegible] charge which the landlord put against t[illegible] eggs he had served to the party at br[illegible]fast. "I wish," said an anxious mother to her indolent son, "that you would give a little attention to your lessons."

EGGS AS CURRENCY.

In some parts of Peru—for example, in the province of Jauja—hens' eggs are circulated as small coins, 40 to 50 being counted for $1. In the market-places and in the shops the Indians make most of their purchases with this brittle kind of money. One will give two or three eggs for brandy, another for indigo and a third for cigars. These eggs are packed in boxes and sent to Lima. From Jauja alone several thousand loads of eggs are annually forwarded to the capital.

LAID A SCHOOL CORNER STONE

INTERESTING CEREMONIES IN ST. JAMES' PARISH.

The corner stone of the new St. James parochial school was laid yesterday afternoon with impressive ceremonies. Several hundred persons gathered to witness the exercises and there was a good representation of the Catholic societies, Knights of Columbus and Irish Catholic Parade Union.

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock, preceded by a squad of mounted police, the children of the school paraded from the old building to the new. Just as they were about to enter the gate the priests who were to officiate at the ceremony joined them, preceded by a cross bearer and two acolytes. When the building was reached the children were grouped around the corner and Rev. Father Byrne of Byrneville, Ill., read the dedicatory sermon.

The preacher at the conclusion of his sermon, accompanied by two priests, passed through the completed portion of the building and consecrated it by sprinkling holy water. The corner stone was then placed in position, and a number of addresses followed, the principal one of which was that of Hon. Champ Clark, who was introduced by Judge Daniel Dillon.

Congressman Clark emphasized the moral and religious phases of school training and the need for thoroughness of instruction. He divided education into three parts, physical, intellectual and religious, all being necessary, he declared, to form a perfect educational system.

Rev. Father John Casey of St. Ann's Church, also delivered an address, in which he spoke of the advantages of consolation of mind and spirit. Father E. A. Casey, rector of St. James's Parish, and who is in charge of the parochial school, together with a number of other priests, lent their aid to the ceremonies, which were elaborate and solemn.

CHICAGO MASCOT TERRIFIED

Youth Who Accompanied Press Club Here Thought Arrest Was Genuine and Fled.

A merry little darky,

The policemen took them in,
This merry little darky
Lost his twinkle and his grin.
Said this Chicago mascot:

And so, before they got him
And shackled him or shot him,
He took the Kelly slide.

The police force of St. Louis missed its golden opportunity when it failed to arrest one Jim Crow, a diminutive Chicago darkey who accompanied the Chicago Press Club members to St. Louis last Saturday as mascot.

Chiefs Kiely and Desmond, with large details of their officers, successfully arrested all the white men in the party and drove them to their hotel in patrol wagons.

Jim Crow, with $20 in his pocket that had been contibuted by his admirers on the train, got lost in the general round-up and made his escape.

The negro, whose color resembles that of the Chicago river at its inkiest stage, turned partially white when President Hawes of the police board read the burlesque warrant to President Carr of the press club.

A RALLY FOLLOWS WEAK OPENING

SELLING FREE, BUT BUYING ENOUGH TO ABSORB OFFERINGS.

THE DECLINE WAS RECOVERED

About All Domestic and Foreign Conditions Were Bearish—Large Receipts and Fine Weather.

Grain.

From the way the speculative grain markets are behaving it looks as though it was good speculation to go long when all the conditions are bearish and go short when a particularly bullish fact is sprung upon the trade. In other words, buy when the markets are at their weakest and sell when they are strongest. Anyone who has played the market conditions with a "copper" for some time past would have been a winner. In the meantime the bearish facts are piling up in the shape of increasing movements to market and in supplies at the markets, with fine weather for moving the grain and benefitting the quality of the new corn crop, and the demand at the centers failing to show any improvement. Corn received a blow in the St. Louis market from some of the new crop coming in, grading No. 2 and later not being salable within 5c of the December option. Facts will tell on speculation eventually.

WHEAT—But scant attention was given in Liverpool to the higher markets and close in this country, the cables announcing ⅛d advance at opening that was subsequently lost. This was not surprising considering that the amount of wheat and flour set afloat last week by the principal exporting countries was practically 13,000,000 bu, exceeding the week before by 2,000,000 bu and corresponding week last year by 5,360,000 bu. The total for week indicated continued large Russian and Roumanian exports. That the imports last week at European ports must have been something enormous was indicated by the fact that with all the great total of shipments the amount on ocean increased only 96,000 bu. A year ago it decreased 936,000 bu.

It was not, however, the bearish foreign intelligence that affected the local market so much as it was the continued large receipts here, these amounting to 311,000 bu, where 68,800 bu received one year ago. This, with an increase of 37,000 bu in the public stock here and the contract grade total nearly 750,000 bu, led to such selling that ½c decline established. Weather conditions were again of the settled description. Northwestern receipts well maintained, 1212 cars arriving at Minneapolis and Duluth, against 1243 cars last Monday and 905 a year ago.

The selling was quite general at the opening, a considerable amount by Zangenberg, but after the first rush was over Hubbard-Maffitt came in, supposed for elevator account, and rallied prices on rather light buying. Dec. opened at 68½c, sold at 68⅜@68½c and then advanced to 69c. May sold at 71¼c to 71⅝@71¾c.

The reaction appeared to take all the nerve out of the bears and they were only in evidence during greater part of the balance of forenoon in the buying back of the wheat they had sold. It was not difficult for scalping bulls to keep the market braced up by strenuous bidding and little buying. The clearances of over 1,000,000 bu helped that side, as did more bullish news from Frisco. December sold at 68¾c to 69⅛c. May at 71½c to 71⅞c and 71⅞@72c bid.

Closing cables reported Liverpool unchanged for the day; London ¼d lower; Paris ⅛@1¼c higher; Antwerp ⅝c lower; Berlin off ⅛c, Buda Pesth up ⅛c. The visible increased 2,264,000 bu last week. Now amounts to 29,918,000 bu, where a year ago it was 40,634,000 bu and the increase then 1,241,000 bu. Primary receipts were 1,864,000 bu, against 1,415,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 756,000 bu, against 486,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 1,031,000 bu.

The large decrease in the visible started the crowd to selling, and the market suffered a relapse, but later reacted again on the strength displayed at all other centers, Minneapolis being particularly strong. No sales of consequence for export reported, and the cash market locally was not at all encouraging. Selling for elevator account against purchases of cash, weakened December, which had sellers at close, just the same as last Saturday, where May c higher. December sold at 69@69⅛c, off to 68⅝c, up to 69⅛c, and at close 68⅞@69c asked; May at 71⅞c, to 71¾c, to 72c, and 71⅞@72c asked at close.

Cash market—Received 5082 sacks and 310 cars local and 23 cars through. A moderate milling and shipping demand for soft winter, the market for which dull and weak under pressure of large offerings and an inadequate demand. The elevators bought most that sold and were unable to sell any amount from their own stock, some No. 2 red being placed at 1c over December loaded. By sample delivered—No. 2 red at 69½@69¾c west and 69½c east side; No. 3 red at 67½@68½c west and 67½@69c east side; No. 4 at 61@65c; rejected at 59@62c; No. 3 white at 63c. Sacked in elevator—No .2 red at 69c; No. 3 red at 66c; No. 4 at 63c. Hard winter only salable readily to go to elevator at buyers' price. No. 2 at 69@71c; No. 3 at 64@68c; No. 4 at 60@65c; rejected at 60c. No. 2 spring sold at 71c and No. 3 at 63c.

CORN—Nothing more favorable in the way of weather could be asked for than that presented on the weather map this morning. It was fine and settled nearly everywhere, little rain having fallen and temperature cool. The conditions were ideal for drying the crop and the presence of some new Missouri corn in here that inspected No. 2 indicated the improvement that was going on in the crop's condition. There was consequently considerable corn for sale in the local pit, Langenberg selling quite a line, presumably against purchases in the country. Receipts were larger here, the 43,100 bu comparing with 48,800 bu a year ago. Liverpool had advanced ¼@⅜d. The world's shipments were 2,144,000 bu, against 2,887,000 bu the week before and 2,516,000 bu one year ago and amount afloat increased 219,000 bu, against 24,000 bu one year ago.

December opened ⅜c lower, at 40½c, sold off to 40¼c and up to 40⅝@40⅞c. May sold ⅛c lower, at 39½c.

The strength in wheat held corn up, subsequently, and the little trading was confined within a narrow range of price. December sold at 40½c to 40⅝c; May, after being offered at 39⅜@39½c, brought 39⅝c.

The visible increased 257,000 bu, against an increase of 187,000 bu one year ago, and the amount now is 2,488,000 bu, compared with 13,636,000 bu last year. Primary receipts were 414,000 bu, against 391,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 412,000 bu, against 194,000 bu last year. Clearances were 49,000 bu. Liverpool closed ⅛d and London ¼d lower for the day.

The great heaviness in the local cash market, where new No. 2 offered at 45c and No. 3 at 40c, and unsold, had an unfavorable effect late in the day, tending to so much selling, and so standing buyers off, that prices declined and at close December offered ⅛c below Saturday, May selling ⅜c lower. Sales were at 40½@40⅝c to 40⅝c for December, closing at 40⅜c sellers, and at 39½c to 39⅝c for May.

Cash market—Received, 1776 sacks and 32 cars local and 11 cars through. Offerings larger of new and buyers generally holding off, so that little sold, of the car lots some choice No. 3 bringing 46c delivered East Side, but late No. 2 offered at 45c and No. 3 at 40c. On levee new sold at 48c to 51c for soft to choice white, 50c for choice yellow and 45@46c for mixed, sacks returned, and for white, sacks in. Old very scarce, as against 203,000 bu increase last year. Primary receipts were 701,000 bu, against 417,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 406,000 bu, against 409,000 bu last year. Clearances, 137,000 bu.

In December there was a little trading at 28½c after the November, but none in May, which offered at 29⅝c. The cash market was in poor shape and a large amount of the offerings carried over.

Cash Market—Received 251 sacks and 110 car load and 20 cars through. Lower, but the decline not sufficient to absorb the offerings, as shippers and local buyers purchased as only requirements called for, so that large amount carried over. Sample delivered—No. 2 at 29½@30½c; No. 3 at 28½@29½c; No. 4 at 27½@28½c; rust proof at 29½@32c; No. 2 white at 33½c; No. 3 white at 29½@31c; No. 4 white at 28@29½c and poor offered at 27c.

RYE—Lower and a dull market. No 2 sold at 48c and No. 3 at 44@46c delivered east side.

Trade Topics.

Modern Miller's Items—Kansas: The corn crop is in excellent condition in this section, and reports indicate that with two or three weeks more of good weather there will be more new corn moving to market than the trade will know what to do with. * * * The latest Texas crop report says seeding of wheat, oats, rye and barley has been completed in many sections, and in other sections is making satisfactory progress. The early seedings of these crops are up to fine stands and growing nicely. There is evidence that the acreage to grain will be increased somewhat over that of previous years. * * * The supply of milling wheat in Minneapolis continues very limited as compared with the normal supply at this time of the year, and should the car shortage continue or get serious soon it would mean trouble to secure sufficient wheat for operations. * * * French millers contend that French wheat does not contain sufficient gluten (azotic matter) to make good flour, and that it must be mixed with foreign wheat in a proportion which varies from 15 to 30 per cent. This is the reason why, with foreign prices higher than home prices, importation continues. Roumanian wheat contains 40 per cent of gluten, and foreign wheat in general has 35 to 36 per cent, while French grain possesses 20 to 25 per cent.

Besides the car lots of new corn that came in today 1282 sacks new corn was received by boat from the lower Mississippi river landings, and all of this graded No. 2.

To Rooke—San Francisco says: Wheat prices are 34c per cental higher than a year ago, or about 20½ a bushel. This is a remarkable advance on the Pacific coast, in view of the fact that prices east of the Rockies are just about where they were a year ago. A San Francisco message said 300,000 bu had been sold to Australia late Friday making 800,000 bu sold since Thursday. Freight situation still favorable to high prices out there. Ocean steamers finding it hard to get cargoes and offering room at very low figures. The following is from a 'Frisco grain broker: "To confirm the reports of demand for Australia, there has been three shipments taken to load for Sydney, N. S. W."

An increased amount of new corn was received here Monday, the quality of which so greatly improved that several cars graded No. 2. This corn came from northwestern Missouri and from the Indian Territory. A steady enlargement to the movement of river corn may be looked for with favorable weather. Langenberg Bros. say their southwestern trade predict large shipments next month, one of their correspondents saying he expects to send in 300 cars. Some new corn was also here from Indiana.

Broomhall says that in France seeding made good progress last week, favored by pleasant weather. Farmers have been busy in fields and have offered but little and prices have been firmly held at about 6d per quarter advance. From the North further complaints of bad condition of new wheat and millers have to buy dry wheat in the center for mixing purposes.

To Petri—Our Liverpool house cables their wheat market is steady and general opinion is shipments from European exporting countries are likely to fall off at present level of prices. French markets are strong, owing to scarcity of good wheats.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Large world's shipments, liberal receipts in the Northwest and lower cables all combined to cause a weaker tone to the wheat market at the opening today. The local crowd were inclined to the bear side and offered freely while the buying was scattered. Large shipments were reported from the Black Sea district which also had a depressing effect. The volume of trading early was light and prices held about steady. December opened unchanged to ⅛@¼c lower at 72¼@72⅜c to 72½c, sold down to 72¼c, but on the decline shorts were fair buyers and the price rallied to 72⅝@72¾c. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 1212 cars, which with local receipts of 195 cars—three of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 1405 cars, against 1400 cars last week and 1023 cars a year ago.

Corn opened weaker on continued fine weather for the movement and larger receipts than estimated. Trade was small, being principally among pit traders. Local longs were disposed to unload, and there was some liquidation of both December and May holdings. December opened ⅛c to ⅜c lower, at 51⅝c to 51⅝c, selling down early to 51¼c. Local receipts were 282 cars, with 40 of contract grade.

Oats opened slightly lower in sympathy with lower prices in other grains and trading was a continuation of that manifested during the past days, there being no special features to the market. December opened ⅛c to ⅛@¼c lower at 31@31⅛c to 31¼c and early sales ranged within a narrow limit. Local receipts were 271 cars.

Provisions opened lower on heavy receipts of hogs at the yards which sold at lower prices. There was some selling by commission houses of pork but offerings were readily taken by local shorts and the early loss was largely regained. January pork opened 10c lower at $15.50; January lard was 2½c lower at $9.12½, and ribs were 5c lower at $8.15.

HELD FOR PASSING BAD BILL.

George Redfield, Negro, Bound Over to the Grandjury.

George Redfield, the negro arrested by Secret Service Agent Murphy on a charge of passing a $20 counterfeit bill on Hugh White, a colored saloonkeeper at Nineteenth and Market streets, was held for the grandjury by United States Commissioner Gray this noon. The bond was fixed at $750.

Redfield tried to prove an alibi by producing witnesses from his former boarding house at 2103 Walnut street who swore that he was at that house during the time other witnesses swore he was playing pool in White's saloon. There was a preponderance of evidence for the prosecution.

Mr. A. O. Field, president of the Jesse French Piano and Organ Co., by whom Redfield was employed as a porter after the negro's arrival here about two weeks ago, testified to the good character he bore at Manitou Springs, Col., and stated that that was the reason he promised Redfield a position should he come here.

Carl Brunner filed suit against Anthony Miller Monday for $10,000, the amount of damages which he believes he should receive for a clubbing which he says was administered to him by Miller on Oct. 12.

Brunner says that Miller attacked him at the corner of Seventh and Dorcas streets and beat him with a stick two inches thick and three feet long. He says two of his teeth were knocked out, his scalp lacerated and his body and legs bruised.

"DISSOCIATED" WITH WORK.

This Fault of Joseph Chesterfield's Wife Won Him Divorce.

The divorce suit of Joseph Chesterfield against Sarah Chesterfield, in Judge Fisher's division of the Circuit Court, Monday morning, caused several broad smiles to ripple around the room, despite the deputy sheriff's call for silence.

The plaintiff is a colored patriarch, 61 years old, of the ante-bellum Southern type. His wife is a decade his junior. They were married November 15, 1890. The main allegation was desertion.

The evidence developed the fact that it was Chesterfield's third marital venture.

"Why do you desire a divorce?" asked the court.

The silvered head of the plaintiff wagged violently. "Cos I want to get rid of dat woman. I got grown chillen by my fust two wives, and if I should die, I jest wouldn't rest easy in mah grave with dis woman as mah wife."

One of the witnesses, a portly, midle-aged mammy, testified for the plaintiff. "Dat woman jest wouldn't do nawthin' foh Mr. Chesterfield," she declared, in a resonant contralto voice. "I 'clah to goodness dat woman was so dissociated with work dat she let his clothes rot in de tub. And ne was a good prewider, too."

The divorce was granted.

HOUSES FULL OF VOTERS.

Republican campaign managers have commenced to investigate a number of instances where the registration from certain houses is suspiciously large.

Members of the Republican city committee say that there are enough cases of this sort to take all the week in undoing the frauds which are alleged to have been committed in registration.

Among the houses named by the Republicans as having more registered voters than their roofs can be reasonably supposed to shelter are those of Nick Griffin, 10 voters; John Ellison, 32 voters; 1504 Washington avenue, 36 voters; Deputy Sheriff Pat Garvey, 42 voters, and a number of boarding houses in the downtown districts which seem to have received a sudden influx of voting patrons.

FIRES AT COTTON EXCHANGE

Twice Within Ten Hours the Building Was in Flames and Twice They Were Extinguished.

The Cotton Exchange building, at Main and Walnut streets, was afire twice in the period of 10 hours last night and this morning.

The second fire, which started at 5 o'clock this morning, was discovered by Officer Chrismer of the Central district, who, fearing that a previous blaze had not been totally extinguished, patrolled the charred fifth floor and discovered flames smoldering in a partition.

He sounded a second alarm and the fire department quickly suppressed all signs of fire. In making the run to answer this alarm Assistant Chief Tierney's buggy crashed into reel No. 4 and he was jarred considerably but otherwise uninjured, while the shaft of his vehicle was broken.

Twice did the building narrowly escape destruction by fire within a period of 10 hours. Ten-year-old August O'Hain of 316 Walnut street was playing in the alley about 8 o'clock last night when he saw an intermittent light at one of the windows on the fourth floor, where the workrooms of the Mayfield Medical Manufacturing Co. are located.

An alarm was turned in, followed by a second, owing to the location of the blaze in the congested district at Main and Walnut streets, and the department responded. By this time the fire had gained headway and was bursting from the windows of the fourth and fifth floors, but it was soon under control and after a half hour's work of the firemen was pronounced out. At that time the damage was estimated at $5000.

DENIES ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

William Conway Says He Is Not the Man Who Entered the Amerika Office.

Frank Broermann, clerk in the business office of the Amerika at 15 South Third street, at whom a robber fired in attempting to loot the office cash drawer Saturday night, positively identified William Conway as the perpetrator of the attempted robbery, and will apply for a warrant against him.

Conway declares that he had no connection with the robbery, but that he ran when he heard the police pursuing a man down the street and firing shots.

Conway says he was walking north on Third street when he heard a shot fired. He ran up the street, and was followed by the police, who arrested him. He says that he saw the escape of the real culprit in a hotel.

Conway lives at 922 North Fourteenth street, and is a stair builder. He has not worked for some time past.

FUNERAL OF MRS. O'BRIEN.

Many Friends Attend the Ceremony at the Church Sunday.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine O'Brien, wife of John O'Brien of 2909 Lawton avenue, took place at the Immaculate Conception Church at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Father Power conducted a most impressive ceremony, dwelling on her many deeds of kindness and noble religious life.

Mrs. O'Brien was born in County Tipperary 61 years ago, and came to St. Louis to live in 1865, during which time she had been well known and highly esteemed in Catholic circles.

Her death was due to gastritis, from which she had suffered since February. Many beautiful floral tributes filled the casket, sent from different societies and loving friends. Mrs. O'Brien leaves two children, a daughter, Mrs. James Morrissey, and a son, John C. O'Brien, affectionately known among his close friends as Connie O'Brien.

Milstadt Nine Defeated.

Erlinger's baseball team beat the strong Milstadt nine on the latter's grounds Sunday afternoon, score 11—8. The Milstadt team has the reputation of being the strongest in the southern part of St. Clair County. Its battery of Muskopf and Muskopf has as much fame in the surrounding country as have the O'Neill brothers in the large sporting world. The game for Sunday was much advertised by the Milstadt team, who planned to shut out the Erlingers.

Capt. Lalumier of the Erlingers sent his "kid" pitcher, Ted Deckert, into the box, and that young man handed out fifteen strike outs to the men of Milstadt.

The score was tied in the eighth inning, and the decisive runs were not made until the tenth.

Crowds of persons from Milstadt, Centerville Station, Belleville and East St. Louis attended the game.

The Milstadt team will play the Erlingers on the latter's grounds next Sunday.

RESIDENCE LOT

$20,000 FOR PROPERTY IN HORTENSE PLACE.

SOLD TO ALBERT H. LAMBERT

Purchaser Will Erect Thereon a Residence of the Colonial Style to Cost $45,000.

The most important sale of high class residence property of last week was that of a lot 180x170 feet, in Hortense place, southwest corner of Euclid, through Fisher & Co., from Robert N. Stubbs to Albert B. Lambert for $20,000. The lot has a rear width of 216 feet.

McNair, Harris & Jones represented the seller in this transaction.

Mr. Lambert has had plans made by G. W. Hellmuth, architect, for the erection of a modern colonial residence, to cost $45,000. It will be three stories high and occupy the center of the lot. The front will have a width of 57 feet and will be embellished with a wide terrace of brick and stone, the floor of which will be inlaid with mosaic.

The exterior will be of red brick, laid in white mortar, with a liberal use of Bedford stone. The main entrance will open into a grand stair-hall, from which the third story will also be accessible. A special feature will be a spacious conservatory on the level of the stair landing, through which a flood of light will pass into the hall. On the east side of the hall will be a living and large dining room with a magnificent buffet recessed in the wall. On the west will be a reception room and back of it a grand salon.

All the floors will be of hardwood, the stairway, hall and two rooms being in mahogany, and the other rooms in various hardwoods. The second story will contain five spacious chambers equipped with marble baths and dressing rooms. The kitchen and servants' quarters will be in a two-story L in the rear of the main building.

The third story will contain a billiard room, ball room and two bed chambers, also with baths. The Colonial style will prevail, both as to the exterior and interior finish of the house.

"UP YORK STATE" AND OTHERS

Sunday Night Offerings at the Theaters Were of a First Rate Quality.

"Up York State," which made its first appearance in St. Louis at the Grand Opera House yesterday, is a rural drama of real excellence and merit. It is one of the sort that sends an occasional thrill up your spine withoutout becoming wildly melodramatic. In fact, there is comparatively little of the melodrama in it until the last act, and then you get enough to make up for all the rest.

There has been some confusion of the play in the minds of theater-goers with George Suydam's play of "York State Folks." They are not the same. This play is by David Higgins and Georgia Waldron, author of "At Piney Ridge," and in it the authors take the principal roles and play them well.

But both the authors of "Up York State" are actors of more than the average ability, and, assisted by a capable company, they give a decidedly pleasing performance.

But the best part of the entertainment has little to do with the story. It is furnished by Mr. Higgins' quaint comedy and the grotesque humor of some of his assistants, notably Rose Adelle as Lelia Belle Bird, the village coquette, and Ethel Kent as Mary Martin. Gabriella McKean, as Darius' aunt Sarah, was also a strong character.

"Up York State" has been a two seasons' success in the East, and it promises to be a week's success in St. Louis.

"The Liberty Belles," with its novel-reading and pink-pajama girls, returned to St. Louis yesterday and were on view at the Century last night in all their pristine glory. They were given a decidedly boisterous reception by one of the noisiest and most unruly galleries of the season.

"The Liberty Belles" this year are a replica of last season in so far as the entertainment goes, although several of the originally success creators are missing, notably Polly Chase. A newcomer who adds considerably to the enjoyment of the entertainment is Katie Rooney, who says she's It, and who is, in spite of the fact that there are a dozen girls in the aggregation who can score all around her in the matter of beauty. But she can sing—a little—and dance a whole lot, and she pleased the big audience.

There is a lot of good music and pretty dancing in "The Liberty Belles." In fact these dances are a great deal more of a feature than the dormitory scene about which so much has been said.

At the Olympic tonight Nat C. Goodwin and Maxine Elliott will present for the first time in St. Louis their new play, "The Altar of Friendship." Those who have seen it declare that it is one of the daintiest comedies ever presented by this popular pair. The advance sale is immense.

Burrows, Lancaster & Co. in a new sketch are the headliners at the Columbia in the new bill which goes on this afternoon. A lot of good people make up the program.

The principal scenic effect in Hal Reid's latest melodrama, "The Convict's Stripe," which was given at the Imperial yesterday, is a blast in a prison stone quarry. The villain has hidden from her playmate his little half-sister—an obstacle between him and his father's estate—directly over the spot where a mine is to be set off. A bullying guard has asked him to hold the firing flag a moment, while he goes, presumably, to shoot another convict or two. This villain is of a new type, both in character and make-up, a cringing cowardly and hypocritical villain, but, goodness, how he does need the money. What a cinch for him! On a second or third thought he waves the red flag, and instantly enough rocks let go to build a new courthouse for St. Louis. Hero John Walton, on seeing the child's danger, has grasped a derrick rope and made a long swing, reaching Mabel just as the volcano 's born.

The play held the full sympathy and interest of Sunday's audiences, and it looks as though Mr. Reid has another melodramatic success to his credit. H. Scott Siggins as the hero was decidedly effective.

"McFadden's Row of Flats" returned for the goodness-knows-what time to Havlin's yesterday, and apparently proved just as entertaining as it did the first time it ever showed there. It is the story of the yellow kids, which but for this stage production would have passed away from the remembrance of the public many years ago. There are a lot of good specialties in the piece, and the applause at Havlin's yesterday afternoon and evening was hearty and boisterous.

INSTEAD OF THIEF

Three Suspects in Cass Avenue Robbery Arrested.

DRUG CLERK WAS RELEASED

HE SERIOUSLY WOUNDED PATROLMAN MICHAEL REEDY.

While Robert Walsh Fired Across the Street at Thieves, Officer Came Into Line of Fire and Was Felled by a Bullet.

John Taylor, John Howard and James O'Toole, the last named an ex-convict, are believed by the police to be the three robbers at whom Drug Clerk Robert C. Walsh was firing Sunday morning when he wounded Patrolman Michael Reedy of the Fifth district.

All three men are in the hands of the police. Taylor and Howard were arrested for robbing Joseph Tuohy of $13 in a saloon at 813 Market street. After they were locked up it was found that their description corresponded to that of the men who entered the grocery and saloon of A. M. Beckerhard, opposite the drug store in which Walsh was employed.

Policeman Reedy, who was shot by Walsh while the latter was firing at the trio of burglars, is in a serious condition at the City Hospital. His wound is in the right lung and the kidney.

The drug store is on the southwest corner of Tenth street and Cass avenue. Walsh sleeps in a room in the rear of the store and was awakened early Sunday morning by the sound of breaking glass.

Stepping into the store, he saw by the rays of an arc light across the street that three men were breaking the glass in the store window, two keeping a watch in both directions while the third chipped away at the glass.

Policeman Shot While Hurrying to the Scene.

Walsh waited until one of the robbers had made a large opening and had crawled in and opened the door for the others. Then he leaned out of the store window and commenced to fire at the robbers.

The bullets struck none of the men at whom they were aimed, but they felled Policeman Reedy, whose beat is along Cass avenue in this neighborhood and who rushed to the corner as he heard the shooting.

Reedy was taken to the City Hospital in a carriage, and other policemen, not knowing of the attempted robbery, undertook to arrest the young drug clerk. He delayed the officers by barricading his window and threatening to fire, but withdrew his weapon when he was told that those outside were officers of the law. He then explained that he supposed the robbers had come back to attack him, and told his story of the attempted robbery.

The police did not at first credit the story of the attempted robbery, but the appearance of the store showed that such an attempt had been made. Walsh was released when his story had been substantiated.

Reedy was able to talk Monday morning, but his condition is critical. Dr. Nietert said that the wound was dangerous and instructed the nurses to keep the patient quiet.

For the eighth time, Oscar Williams has left his home without informing his mother where he was going, and as the last absence has extended over a period of three months, she is anxious about him and yesterday asked the assistance of the police in an effort to locate him.

He formerly lived with his mother, Mrs. Alice Williams, at 824 North Twenty-second street, and just before he disappeared intimated that he would like to visit Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Williams has advertised in the papers of that city for him, but has received no answer. She says he is 20 years old, and sometimes went by the name of Oscar or Frank Coleman.

BRIQUETTE FUEL CO.

The peculiar conditions in the coal market and the fact that Briquettes have been demonstrated to be the equal of the best anthracite, pound for pound, in both heating and lasting qualities, have created such a demand for Briquettes that the present capacity of the company's plant is utterly inadequate to supply it. It is imperative that the plant be enlarged immediately. To do this capital is required. The company has therefore decided to offer for a few days 3,000 shares at $15 a share. For full information call at the company's office, or write and a representative will call upon you.

FAKE HAIR PREPARATIONS

Do Hair No Good, but often Cause It to Fall Out.

Many hair preparations are "fake" because they are merely scalp irritants. They often cause a dryness, making the hair brittle, and, finally, lifeless. Dandruff is the cause of all trouble with hair. It is a germ disease. The germ makes cuticle scales as it digs to the root of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing the hair to fall out. To cure dandruff, the germ must be killed. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ, thereby leaving the hair to grow luxuriantly. Send 10c in stamps. The Herpicide Co., 41 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, Mich. Sold by Raboteau & Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Judge & Dolph Co.
